ABSTRACT OF RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Rule 43.—The Library shall be open for the exchange of Books at such times as the Committee may determine.

Rule 44.—The Committee shall have the sole management of the Library; they shall order Books, regulate their issue, or at their own discretion retain them for Reference or for reading in the Reading Room.

Any Member or Subscriber may recommend a Book by entering its title, number of volumes, and price, with the publishers' names, in the Proposition Book (which is kept in the Library), to any such entry the person's signature must be attached.

Rule 45.—No Book shall, until duly entered, be taken out of the Library, under a penalty of Sixpence; and no person, except a Member of the Committee, or the Librarian, shall take a volume from the shelves under a penalty of Sixpence. Before the delivery of any Book the Member's Card must be produced, if required by the Librarian.

Rule 46.—Any person keeping a Book beyond the time specified on its cover, shall forfeit One Penny for each week, or portion of a week the Library is open until returned. No Book shall be lent out of the house of the person to whom it has been issued, under a penalty of One Shilling for each offence.

Rule 47.—No Member or Subscriber shall be entitled to any Book, so long as any Fine shall stand against him.

Rule 48.—Persons applying for any work in great demand, shall, upon giving their names to the Librarian, receive it in regular succession.

Rule 49.—No person shall receive more than one Book, and a Periodical, at one time; but if any work consists of more than one volume, the whole may be taken out, if the Librarian think proper; the whole must, however, be returned at the expiration of the time allowed for keeping one of the volumes.

Rule 50.—Any Member or Subscriber wishing to consult any Book or Books in the Library may do so at all reasonable hours, on application to the Librarian, but such Book must not be taken from the room, and must be returned to the Librarian when done with.

Rule 51.—Any Member or Subscriber losing, defacing, writing in, or materially injuring any volume, must replace it by a new copy; if it be one of a set, he shall receive the remaining volumes, and provide an entire new set for the Library.

Rule 52.—The Library will be closed the first two weeks in August in each year, and all Books which Members may have out must be returned on or before the 31st July, or in default, a Fine of Sixpence will be incurred.

Rule 53.—No Books or Newspapers shall be admitted into the Library, Reading Room, or any other part of the Club, without the sanction of the Committee.

THE LIBRARY,

Containing upwards of 4,500 vols., is OPEN on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m.

The following Descriptive Catalogue has been prepared by order of the Committee, and will be found a convenient means of finding out any desired book in the Library. It is compiled on the plan of a Dictionary, in one alphabetical arrangement throughout. The Books will be found under TITLE and AUTHOR'S Name, and, where required, the SUBJECT also; thus, many Books will have a three-fold entry.

It has often been a matter of regret that many very valuable Books remain on the shelves almost unread, chiefly on account of the obscurity of their Titles. All such Books have been so far described as to give a fair idea of their contents. Also in the bound Magazines are many interesting and valuable articles, stories, &c., that are little known, a brief synopsis of their contents has been given, so that readers may now fully avail themselves of the great advantages offered by such a large Collection of Books.

The Roman Letters preceding the Numbers denote the Classes into which the Books are divided, thus—

- A Theology, Morals, &c.
- B Science, Art, Natural History, &c.
- C History, Biography, Voyages, Travels, &c.
- D Political Economy, Commerce, Statistics, &c.
- E Poetry and Dramatic Literature.
- F Fiction, Narrative, &c.
- G General Literature, Collected Works, &c.
- RL Reference Library.—These are not lent out of the Institute, but are kept in the Reading Room for Reference only.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR WORKING THE INDICATOR.

The Library is worked by means of an Indicator. Round the entrance to the Library is placed a frame, in which are a series of small shelves numbered consecutively from 1 to 5,000, arranged in fifty divisions of one hundred each. When a Book is issued a card on which the entry is made is put in the shelf that bears the same number as the Book given out.

The following illustration may make the system more easily understood:—

Section of Indicator.	3501
	3502
	3503	■
	3504	■
	3505
	3506	■
	3507
	3508
	3509
	3510	■

It will be seen that the shelves to the right of numbers 3503, 3504, 3506 and 3510 contain a card, therefore the Books bearing those numbers are OUT, the other shelves being empty the Books bearing those numbers are IN.

Members taking Books out of the Library must first ascertain, by referring to the Indicator, whether the Book they require is in or not. They should make selections from the Catalogue at their homes, and write on a slip of paper for reference to the Indicator the numbers of several Books; by so doing they will expedite the business of the Library, and avoid loss of time to themselves.

If proper attention be paid to the above instructions readers will save themselves the trouble of asking for Books that are out.

		"Is it possible to make the best of both worlds," was the subject of a Lecture in Exeter Hall, which is here expanded into a volume. The Author's purpose is to show that it is possible to make the best of this life as well as the next, to spoil neither, but to make the happiness of the one prophetic and preliminary to that of the other.
